SHORT $400,000.

CITY TREASURER THOMAS AXWORTHY OF CLEVELAND,

SAID TO HAVE DEFAULTED FOR THAT AMOUNT.

He Has Been Absent From the Forest City Almost a Month and Is Now Supposed to Be in Europe—His Bondsman Held a Conference and Attack and Garnishee All the Defaulter's Property.

CLEVELAND, O., Oct. 24.—The greatest excitement prevails here in financial and business, as well as social circles, over the reported defection of City Treasurer Thomas Axworthy. Mr. Axworthy left the city on September 28, going direct to New York city, from where he is said to have left for Montreal, Can., on September 29. Investigation so far develops a shortage of city funds of over $383,000, and it is thought that further investigation will increase the amount.

Axworthy's bondsman consisting of United States Senator Payne and J. H. Wade, Jr., who are on his bond for $500,000, had a hurried meeting at the office of Attorneys Estep, Dickey & Squire about midnight Monday night, and attachments were immediately taken out, one for $500,000 and the other by the National Bank of Commerce for $250,000, to secure themselves on Axworthy's paper. All Axworthy's property in the city, consisting of large amounts of real estate and lake vessels, were also attached and garnishments were served on all local banks where city and personal money was on deposit, and on the numerous firms in which the defaulting treasurer is interested. All city funds have heretofore been deposited in the various banks in the treasurer's own name, but a recent law compelled the depositing of all funds in one bank selected from bids. This law took effect last week, and precipitated the crash. Axworthy's reasons for embezzling are unknown. He was considered very wealthy, and rated by those in a position to know at over $500,000. Many believe that he was caught in Hutchinson's wheat corner and lost $500,000. There is on deposit in various city banks about $350,000 in Treasurer Axworthy's name, but how much of it is city funds and how much personal it is impossible to tell.

Axworthy was at the Windsor hotel, New York, on September 29, but left the same day, and is said to have gone to Montreal.

LATER.—From later accounts the shortage is estimated at $400,000.

STILL LATER.—It has been learned that Axworthy has fled to Europe.

Short $200,000.

ATLANTA, Ga., Oct. 24.—At a meeting of the county commissioners J. M. Wilson, county and state tax collector, was suspended. He is short in his accounts $20,000.

SUNK AT SEA.

An Ocean Steamer Runs Into a Brig and Sinks Her.

New York, Oct. 24.—The Old Dominion line's steamship Roanoke left her pier in the North river at 4 o'clock Saturday afternoon, bound for Norfolk, Va. Late Saturday night she encountered a thick fog. About 11:30 the ship, under the charge of the first officer, was running along at a fair rate when a harsh grating noise was heard, and the ship came to a sudden standstill, bringing all on board hurrying to the deck. Through the darkness and fog a massive black object was visible. The object was discovered to be the brig Hyperion, bound from Philadelphia to Portland with 400 tons of coal on board. By the shock the brig lost her foretop gallant mast, her sails also being torn to shreds. She had five men on board. Boats were lowered by the Roanoke and the men taken off. The Hyperion was sinking fast.

The collision occurred just west of Abscon light. The Roanoke took the brig in tow and proceeded on her voyage. At 5:25 o'clock on Sunday morning, when at the breakwater north by west of Abscon light, the brig sank, there being barely time to cut the hawser by which she was being towed. The Hyperion sank in thirteen fathoms of water, right in the track of vessels, and will prove dangerous to navigation unless removed. The Roanoke was damaged but little. The Roanoke proceeded on her way, arriving at Norfolk at 8:30 last night. From telegrams received here from the Norfolk agents of the Dominion line it is learned that the brig was to blame. No lights were visible on her at the time of the collision. It is not known to whom she was consigned nor to whom she belonged.

JACKSONVILLE.

Only One Death Monday—The Volunteer Physicians Resign.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Oct. 24.—President Neil Mitchell's official bulletin for the twenty-four hours ending at 6 o'clock Monday evening: New cases, 43; deaths, 1; total number cases to date, 3,839; total number deaths to date, 332.

Two resolutions passed by the engineer corps at a meeting Monday, tell their own story:

"First—After investigation, the board of health having succeeded in preventing further annoyance from sources complained of—

"RESOLVED, That the resignation held in abeyance be rescinded, and the board thanked for courtesy, protection, &c.

"Second—As the epidemic has so far decreased in the judgment of this corps, that the local physicians can attend to all new cases without further aid from visiting physicians, and to avoid all delicate complications that might arise in dispensing with the services of the corps.

"RESOLVED, That we tender our resignation, to take effect Thursday, October 25, thanking the board."

New York, Oct. 24.—The hearing of the celebrated Stewart will case was again adjourned, owing to the absence of one of the leading lawyers retained by the contestants. The trial was adjourned until Monday next.

CINCINNATI'S CENTENNIAL.

Attractions for the Past Week—Chrysanthemum Week—Democratic Day.

CINCINNATI, Oct. 24.—It was reported Monday night that competent legal advice asked for the commissioners was to the effect that the extension of the exposition for two weeks would, in all probability, invalidate the guarantors' notes, they having given the notes as a guarantee for an exposition to be held from a certain date to a certain date. Any change in time will render their liability, if any there may be, a very serious question. In this view of the case it was further reported that the commissioners had abandoned any idea of continuing the exposition, and that the doors will close finally at 10 o'clock next Saturday night.

Commissioner McCummon has been working for weeks to bring to perfection his plans for a chrysanthemum show, and Monday they were successfully demonstrated. Horticultural ball had been transformed into a perfect garden of delight. Above it is a blaze of crimson and gold Japanese lanterns, and below a perfect flower garden of glorious blossoms, fully a thousand plants of chrysanthemums in splendid bloom, gold, crimson, pink, silver and variegated.

The chrysanthemum is the present favorite of fashion, and nobody who aims to be at all au fait can afford to miss this splendid display. It will continue until the close of the exposition.

Thursday will be Democratic day. The indications are that there will be a tremendous crowd. Judge Thurman will be here, and Speaker Carlisle. Owing to President Cleveland's engagement to be in New York on Friday, it is unlikely that he will come.

The stage will be handsomely decorated, and a group of beautiful children, each representing a state of the union, will serve as a body guard to the ladies.

Competition Was Too Great.

BOSTON, Oct. 24.—Albert Geigen, treasurer of the Norway Steel and Iron company, says regarding the contemplated liquidation of the company, that the step has been forced by a long recognized and insurmountable inability to compete with western iron companies, such as those in Pittsburgh, where their close proximity to both the iron and coal mines gives them an enormous financial advantage over the eastern companies, which have to pay freight rates on both coal and iron, aggregating large sums. The tariff of about 45 per cent. on raw iron is another reason which has led the company to take this action. Mr. Geigen expressed the opinion that if iron, the raw material, could be imported free of duty the company would be able, despite the competition with Pennsylvania, to continue its business successfully.

The Power of Natural Gas.

FINDLAY, O., Oct. 24.—At the works of the Findlay Press Brick company Monday morning, William Watson, in attempting to show J. M. McClelland and a stranger the power of his gas well, which is covered by a small building, was met by a terrific explosion, which blew the building into pieces and knocked the men down, setting their clothing on fire, burning them all in a most frightful manner. Watson and McClelland are the most seriously injured, and, if they recover, will be disfigured for life. The accident was caused by an accumulation of gas, when the full force of the well was turned in the building, which ignited from a small gas jet.

The Pope and the K. of L.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 24.—Prominent officials of the Knights of Labor, as well as eminent lawyers of the Catholic church, place no faith whatever in the report of the correspondent of the London Chronicle that the pope is about to issue a decree instructing the bishops of the United States to obtain from the leaders of the Knights of Labor verbal declarations as to the innocuousness of the order. Their doubts are due to the fact that the relations of the papal see to the organization have been considered as well defined and settled since the last general assembly, which was held in Minneapolis a year ago.

Suffering of Shipwrecked Sailors.

SAULT STE. MARIE, Mich., Oct. 24.—The steamer City of Montreal went to pieces Saturday evening at Michipicoten island. Friday she was overtaken by a terrific gale. Her engine broke down, and the vessel became unmanageable, the storm pounding her on the rocks. The crew of thirteen, including two ladies, took to the boats and got to the island, suffering the greatest hardships while there, having nothing to eat but fish until the W. B. Hale picked them up Sunday and landed them at the Soo. The tow is thought to be lost also. A tug has gone in search.

Washington Races.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 24.—The fall meeting of the National Jockey club opened here in a drizzling rain. The track was heavy and sloppy. The attendance was small.

First race, three quarters of a mile: Reporter first, Badge second, Volta third. Time 1:16.

Second race, one and one-eighth miles: Bertha B. colt, first, Passport second, Bravo third. Time 2:04 1-2.

Third race, one mile and a quarter: Eurus first, Favor third, Frank Ward third. Time 2:13 1-2.

The Chinese Will Wait in Jail.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 24.—United States District Attorney Carey concluded examination of the fifty-one Chinamen who were released from the steamer Belgic on writs of habeas corpus last week on pleas of being merchants and not laborers. District Attorney Carey says he is satisfied all of the men, with possibly one exception, are friends, and are hired out by the exclusion act. Judge Sawyer will hear the cases next Wednesday, and in the meantime the Chinese will remain in the county jail.

A Strange Funeral.

CINCINNATI, Oct. 24.—Mrs. J. W. Ellis, who died in Bellevue, Ky., Saturday night of dropsy, weighed 530 pounds. A special coffin had to be made. The window casing and three courses of brick were removed to allow the coffin to be taken out and lowered by derrick from the second story. The remains were shipped to Moore's Hill, Ind., where it was necessary to remove the door of the family vault to admit the coffin.

NEGOTIATIONS

SAID TO BE IN PROGRESS BETWEEN GERMANY AND ENGLAND

TO JOINTLY QUELL THE DISORDER IN EASTERN AFRICA.

The Tentons Experience Difficulty in Retaining Their Foothold in Zanzibar—The London Times Appears to Be Disappointed at the Result of the Parnell Investigations—Foreign.

LONDON, Oct. 24.—The statement of the correspondent of the Daily News at Berlin that the German government is in negotiation with England with a view of acting jointly in putting down the present disorder in eastern Africa, is regarded by many here as the beginning of a closer system of relations between the two countries. It has for some time been contended by many leading Englishmen that Germany must sooner or later see the necessity of resuming her intimacy with England.

For some years she has stood alone, in spite of the insipid alliances she has made with several of the continental powers, but her territorial greed, leading her to colonial acquisitions in remote and often unprofitable conquests has, through the intolerance and semi-brutality of the men into whose hands the government and development of the new acquisitions have been intrusted, rendered the retention of these annexed regions almost impossible, without an expenditure of blood and treasure wholly unwarranted by the value of the possessions.

The German East African company, and incidentally the German government, has experienced recently more difficulty in retaining a foothold in portions of Zanzibar and other East African territory which Germany has endeavored to control than was dreamed of at the outset, and the enormous expense of naval protection, to say nothing of the loss of prestige through successive defeats at the hands of barbarous natives, is believed to have induced the Berlin authorities to make overtures to England as a colonial ally.

Austria has no colonies, and the success of Italy in her attempts to seize and hold the most desirable of Abyssinia have not been sufficiently fruitful to inspire the German empire with a very high degree of respect for her abilities as a conqueror. These considerations, in view of the colonial situation which Germany cannot conceal, make it urgent that she should strengthen her position abroad as well as at home, and the opinion of the few who have as yet considered the matter in its new light, as well as those who have all along held such views, is that she will sooner or later have to depend upon detested England for favors greater than can possibly be shown to her by the continental powers whose aid she has invoked.

Parnell's Suit.

New York, Oct. 24.—A special to the World from London says:

The second day's appearance of the Times before the commission of inquiry leaves the same impression of weakness and disappointment as did the first. There was no startling revelation given as promised. The indictment was against the Irish organization, and not against the individual leaders. The charges were founded on the probable tendency of certain speeches and actions, and not on any definite statement as to the complicity or connection of any Irish leader with any particular crime. The attorney general has opened the case badly. His speech was disconnected, ill-arranged and almost incoherent. The line of action of the Times is now sufficiently forecast. Resident magistrates, boycotted landlords and police officers will be produced to describe in lurid colors the conditions of certain disturbed districts during the agitation, and to express opinion to the effect that all this was due to the speeches and actions of the leaguers. Old crimes will be told and retold melodramatically, so as to horrify the English mind.

It remains to be seen whether the court will regard this as within the proper scope of inquiry and as admissible evidence. But the present effect has been to disappoint the public which expected revelations and definite charges, and that the guilt would be brought home to Mr. Parnell, instead of a mere rehash of speeches seven years old and a series of stale and ancient charges.

The Times calculates on causing a profound impression by bringing these crimes nearer to the English soil. The lawyers of Mr. Parnell are delighted with the course of the first day, and conclude that Sir Richard Webster has no new story to tell, and they think that the public cannot be roused to any interest in such generalities and antiquities as the attorney general produces.

On the reassembling of the Parnell commission for the second day Mr. Joseph Biggar, one of the Irish members of parliament involved in the Times' charges, personally requested that he be supplied with copies of those speeches read from by Attorney General Webster, Monday, which referred to him.

The attorney general promised to supply them and then continued with the presentation of the Times case. He said that Mr. Parnell's supporters had been trying to exhibit him as one who stood aloof from the anti-rent and plan of campaign agitators. But the fact was that as far back as 1880 Mr. Parnell had led the anti-rent movement, and in a speech in County Kerry in that year, he had told his hearers that land league had plenty of money to defend those tenant farmers who refused to pay their rent.

He referred to the wickedness of the advice given by Boyton, Timothy Harrington and Father O'Leary at the Barryclough meeting in 1881, and said that at that time Mr. Parnell and his colleagues did not conceal their sympathy with the league's emissaries in crime.

English Socialists.

LONDON, Oct. 24.—The Socialists are arranging for a rival procession and display in Trafalgar square on Lord mayor's day, but the indications now are that the affair will be a fizzle. In any event, it is certain that no demonstration in Trafalgar square will be permitted by the authorities.

Boulangier to Be Heard.

PARIS, Oct. 24.—La Presse announces that Gen. Boulanger desires to give evidence before the committee of the chamber of deputies, to which the government's proposal for a revision of the constitution was referred.

Expensive Defense.

PARIS, Oct. 24.—The National makes the startling statement that M. DeFreycinet informed the budget committee that it would be necessary to spend $200,000,000 to defend the eastern frontier.

Disastrous Incendiarious Fires.

PARIS, Oct. 24.—Incendiarious have attempted to destroy the forest of Fontainebleau. Fires were started in five different places, and were extinguished with difficulty. A large quantity of forage was consumed, entailing a loss of 1,250,000 francs. Two men have been arrested on suspicion.

The Potenza Disaster.

ROME, Oct. 24.—The official report of the railway disaster near Potenza, limits the number persons killed to nineteen and the injured to fifty-five.

Foreign Notes.

The condition of Mr. Thomas Quinn, member for Kilkenny, is much improved, and he is now out of danger.

An ex-policeman named Bruen was found murdered at Callooney, County Sligo. It is not known who committed the deed. The excitement occasioned by the affair is intense.

It has been decided to have a grand volunteer display on the occasion of the lord mayor's show, instead of the customary circus. The idea was suggested by Mr. Augustus Harris, who donated £100 toward the object.

The Fremdenblatt states that it has been reliably informed that Russia has completed preparations for the transfer of a large number of Russian troops from the interior of Russia toward the Austrian and German frontiers, and that the transfer will shortly be made.

DAILY EVENING BULLETIN.

DAILY, EXCEPT SUNDAY.
ROSSER & MCCARTHY,

WEDNESDAY EVE., OCT. 24, 1888.

Interesting Figures.

In 1860, the agricultural State of Illinois had a population of 1,711,951, and an average per capita wealth of $227. In 1880, after twenty years of high tariff, Illinois had a population of 3,077,871, while the average per capita wealth was but $255, an increase in twenty years of only $28.

The manufacturing State of Massachusetts in 1860 had a population of 1,231,066 while her average per capita wealth was $631. In 1880 her population had increased to 1,783,085, while her individual wealth had increased to $888. Massachusetts increased her per capita wealth in twenty years of high tariff $157, while Illinois, the agricultural Republic State of the West, showed an increase of but $28. The area of Illinois is 56,650 square miles while that of Massachusetts is 8,310 square miles. Illinois has six times the area of Massachusetts and almost twice the population, and yet her per capita average is $255, while Massachusetts has $888, Massachusetts having $633 more individual wealth than Illinois.

This shows in a nut shell how a high protective tariff works in favor of one State and directly against the interests of another. The high tariff has simply robbed the farmers of Illinois for the benefit of the manufacturers of Massachusetts.

"Indiana's All Right."

A former Maysville Democrat writing from Muncie, Ind., says: "Indiana's all right. I'm satisfied we will carry it by 10,000. Cleveland and the Old Roman will sweep the country this time. Everything looks that way. The Republicans are all scared and very anxious. Democrats satisfied, but working hard, and they never were organized as perfectly as they now are."

"Foraker, the Terrible," spoke here a few days ago. The Republicans had advertised him all over the country, and expected to turn Muncie over. The whole thing was a fizzle, and nearly every body got drunk. You never saw such a drunken, howling mob in your life. Most of them as a consequence are very much depressed this week. Several have announced their intention of voting for C. & T. The "free whisky" platform of the Republicans was in full force, and four of the bar-rooms had to lock up at 7 p. m. for the want of material. We've got 'em by the seat of their pants and their coat-collar, and don't you forget it we are going to pitch them overboard on the 6th of November and drown them in the sea of oblivion."

The election will be held a week from next Tuesday. Every Democrat in Mason should turn out early and vote for the entire ticket.

The Senate tariff bill increases the free list $6,000,000 and makes a big reduction in addition to this. If the Mills bill makes the Democrats free traders the Senate bill makes the Republicans free traders.

MR. PAYNTER is a man of ability, and every way qualified for the position he seeks. Nothing can be said against him. He has ever been true to his party, and he should have the hearty support of every Democrat in the district.

When the writer of this paragraph was a boy, millionaires were so few that the school histories made mention of them; and they might have been numbered before the war upon the fingers of one hand.

To-day they are numerous in the nine protected manufacturing States, and some of them control fortunes estimated at $200,000,000.

Since we have little or no trade abroad this vast amount of money in the possession of this favored class must be wrung from the people at home.

That is what protection does. It robs the masses for the millionaires. It is making the rich richer and the poor poorer, just as Ingalls, the Republican Senator from Kansas, said it did some years ago.

ADAMS COUNTY, OHIO, furnishes a striking example of Republican extravagance and misrule. The West Union Defender says:

In 1886 with one Republican Commissioner the county debt was $4,400.

In 1887 with two Republican Commissioners the county debt was $30,150.

In 1888 with three Republican Commissioners the county debt is $45,800.

In 1887 with two Republicans in Board the combined salaries amounted to $1,117.16.

In 1888 with three Republicans in Board the combined salaries amounted to $1,342.64.

The Question of Markets.

Last year England exported into Mexico, our next door neighbor, whose trade ought to belong to us, more than $750,000,000 in value of her productions, while the exports of the United States into Mexico during the same year were less than fifty millions. Hence we see that the export trade England now has with Mexico alone is almost as great as the export trade the United States has with all the world. England has almost monopolized the trade of South America, a country with a population of 55,000,000—very nearly as great as the United States. But the Republicans claim that the loss of foreign trade is more than compensated by securing our home market for our own producers; they insist that a high protective tariff will so stimulate and diversify our industries that over sixty millions of her people will furnish an adequate market for all our productions. Under such a theory the question is simply not what we can produce, but what we can consume. If we can produce more than we can consume, then the producer will have to suffer. And in that event the farmer is more injured than any other class of producers, for this reason, that he cannot regulate and gauge his productions to simply meet the demands of a limited market, as the manufacturer can do, by putting out his fires, stopping his mills and discharging his labor until his supply is exhausted. But if the farmer can not find a market abroad for his surplus after the home market he is ruined. It is a fact that can not be successfully contradicted that in no like period in the last forty years, has the farmer suffered more from depression in the price of their productions than in the last five years; nor has there been a time in the last forty years, with less encouragement to the farmer than the present although we have had a high protective tariff continuously for the last twenty-seven years. The tariff can do and has done nothing for the farmer. There must be a change of the laws before he can hope to enjoy any degree of prosperity. The Democrats will make the change if the people of the country will put them in a position to do it. It rests with them to say whether they will have the change or not.

MAYSLEICK.

John T. Worthington has lately returned from Lewis County.

The farmers, on account of so much wet weather, are very much behind with their seedling.

The Christian Church in this place is still without a regular preacher. Let some step in front.

Rev. Z. T. Cody returned home last Saturday from Nicholas County, where he had been in a meeting for some days.

The colored fair opened in T. B. Worthington's woodshed one mile from this place this morning, and continues over Saturday.

Jasper S. Hixon brought the remains of his wife here last week, who died in Tennessee very suddenly. Her remains were placed in our cemetery.

A student from the Bible College, Lexington, preached in the Christian Church last Sunday, and will be here again next Sunday, morning and evening.

Mrs. John H. Thompson, late of Winchester, and Mrs. Ed P. Grimes, of Missouri, spent several days with their sister, Mrs. J. A. Jackson last week, and returned to Bourbon County Saturday.

Latest Fashions.

Many of the most dressy wraps are still made of three materials.

But few of the corages of the present season show a visible fastening.

Dresses for little girls under six should reach to the top of the shoes.

Dressy bodices for very young ladies are laced or buttoned at the back, the fronts being elaborately trimmed.

The highest novelties in silk goods is the Persian cashmere silk with an imitation astrakhan border, which is also of silk.

TOBACCO MARKET.

Sales on our market for the week just closed amount to 1,650 bbls. with receipts for the same period of 28 bbls. Sales on our market since January 1st, amount to 69,930 bbls.

The offerings of burley tobacco were large this week considering the stock held here. The better grades of burley tobacco in sweet condition are gradually growing stronger. Prices realized for such this week have been about as high as at any time in the past twelve months. The bulk of the burley offerings, however, are in tunked condition and the prices for such are somewhat weaker. A few hogheads of this year's crop were sold this week at prices which were generally up to the expectations of sellers.

Death From Hydrophobia. A special from Ripley says some three weeks ago two little children of Nate Cochran, a blacksmith living in the vicinity of South Ripley, were very severely bitten by a dog. Medical aid was summoned at the time and the dog was put to death. Last Friday the younger of the girls, about five years old, was taken with spasms, which developed into hydrophobia. The child exhibited all the symptoms common to such cases, and at the sight of water would be thrown into violent convulsions, frothing at the mouth and barking like a dog. She grew steadily worse, and died Monday morning at seven o'clock. As yet the other child has not been afflicted.

CORONER'S JURY

DECIDES WHO IS RESPONSIBLE FOR THE MID RUN WRECK, WHICH RESULTED IN THE LOSS OF OVER SEVENTY LIVES.

The Engineers and Firemen of Both Trains, Together With the Conductors and One of the Brakemen, Guilty of Gross Neglect—Warrants Issued for Several of the Railroad's Employees.

MATCH CHURCH, Pa., Oct. 24.—The coroner's jury which investigated the causes of the recent terrible collision on the Lehigh Valley railroad by which upward of seventy people were killed, has rendered a verdict. The engineers of both locomotives on section seven, which crashed into the ill-fated section six are held guilty of gross negligence in failing to discover the red signal in time, the evidence clearly showing that this signal was in full view as their train approached; and, secondly, for not approaching the station under full control as required by both the general and special orders. The evidence also shows that the air brakes of the entire seventh section were under the control of the engineer of locomotive No. 465, and that he could have stopped the train in spite of the locomotive ahead, No. 452.

The rear brakeman of the sixth section was guilty of gross negligence, for when his train stopped, instead of promptly going back the proper distance to warn the approaching train, he stopped at the station. There was time enough for him to have gone back nearly half a mile, but he went less than four hundred feet.

The conductors of the two sections failed in their duty, the first in not conforming to the rule requiring each conductor to see personally that his brakeman protects the rear of his train, and the second in not requiring his train to approach the station under control.

Warrants Issued.

MATCH CHURCH, Pa., Oct. 24.—The district attorney of Carbon county, shortly before midnight Monday night, issued warrants for the arrest of Henry Cook and Thomas Major, engineers; John Mulhearn and Joseph Pohl, conductors; James Hannigan, flagman, and Charles Terry and Joseph Keitline, conductors, charging them with gross negligence and willful misconduct, and for failing to observe the precaution and rules which it was their duty to obey and observe, while they were employed in the conveyance of passengers for the Lehigh Valley Railroad company, causing the great accident at Mid Run, which resulted in killing and injuring many persons.

The Conductor Responsible.

WASHINGTON, Pa., Oct. 24.—The verdict of the coroner's jury in the case of the recent disaster on the Baltimore and Ohio railroad at this place, was rendered at a late hour Monday night. The jury finds Conductor Heck, of the gravel train, who left the Y switch open, guilty of involuntary manslaughter, and that the Baltimore & Ohio company were grossly negligent in not providing adequate signals at the switch. A warrant was issued for Heck's arrest.

Fallen to Eng the Train

CHEYENNE, Wyo., Oct. 24.—A party of Union Pacific carpenters pushing a hand car along the track twenty-four miles west of this city were run down by a train in a deep cut at a sharp curve. John McCon, aged sixty years, was ground to pulp under the wheels. Four other men were seriously injured. The accident was due to the neglect of the boss carpenter to send a flagman in advance of his crew.

PULSIFER'S ILL LUCK.

Two of His Investments Suddenly Turn Out Good.

BOSTON, Oct. 24.—Col. Pulsifer's ill luck began to change soon after his death, and it looks as though the tide of prosperity would have turned toward him once more if he had waited three days longer.

Monday the bonds of the Marietta & North Georgia railroad were floated on the London market and were taken at par. This was one of Col. Pulsifer's pet schemes. He had advanced a small fortune in the road, but he began to think his money was thrown away.

Another enterprise in which he was a large stockholder was the Boston Conduit company. Its object was to lay all the electric telegraph and telephone wires under ground. It received a franchise from the board of aldermen, but it was vetoed by Mayor O'Brien, and his friends feared that was the end of it. Monday night the board of aldermen passed the bill over the mayor's veto. This will put the company on its feet. But Col. Pulsifer could not wait for these enterprises to yield the return which he expected.

Brutally Outraged.

FORT WAYNE, Ind., Oct. 24.—Sunday night the piercing screams of a woman attracted James Doyle to an old coal shed near the railroad depot. Doyle recognized a girl struggling with two ruffians, and was knocked down when attempting to rescue the girl. He recognized one as being Mart Devany, a young tough. They drove Doyle off and spirited the girl away. She was found Monday morning in that vicinity more dead than alive. She gave her name as Edie Stacy, and claims she was dragged from the street into the shed, where she was assaulted by Devany and his companion. The girl is seventeen years of age and simple-minded. Devany was arrested.

Wants to Be Reinstated.

AUBURN, N. Y., Oct. 24.—S. D. Travis, an ex-keeper in Auburn prison and who was discharged by Agent and Warden Durston early in August, has commenced action against Warden Durston to compel his reinstatement on the ground of his being an honorably discharged Union soldier. The case is brought in the shape of a motion for a mandamus order compelling the warden to reinstate Travis, who alleges he was removed without cause. Since Warden Durston commenced his duties at the prison he has discharged only six veterans, and of his new employees nine are veterans of the late war. The motion for the mandamus will be heard at Rochester Monday.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Oct. 24.—In the trial of "Spikes" Murphy for the murder of Waterman Irons the jury found a verdict of guilty. Sentence was deferred.

POLITICAL NEWS.

Harrison Receives a Delegation—Thurman's Program—Notes.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Oct. 24.—After addressing the commercial travelers on Saturday, Gen. Harrison announced to his friends that he would deliver no more speeches during the campaign. The same evening a telegram was received from Springfield, O., stating that the plug-hat brigade of that city desired to be received Monday. They were informed that Gen. Harrison would probably not address them, and replied that they would come anyhow, and a hundred of them arrived in the city early Monday morning, followed by 1,900 more at 3 o'clock in the afternoon. The rain interfered materially with their street parade, but they made a creditable appearance with several fine bands.

Shortly after 4 o'clock they were received at Tomlinson's hall by Gen. Harrison. Each of the 2,000 visitors wore a white plug hat, and as Gen. Harrison entered the hall, every man jumped up and stood on his chair and frantically waved his plug hat in one hand and a flag in the other. The demonstration lasted several minutes. Gen. A. S. Bushnell, of Springfield, spoke briefly for the Buckeyes, after which Gen. Harrison made a short speech, at the conclusion of which Gen. Bushnell presented him with a highly polished horseshoe, manufactured from American steel by S. B. Thomas, formerly an Englishman. Repeated calls for Mr. Thomas brought that gentleman out, and there was another prolonged demonstration.

Thurman's Appointments.

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 24.—The following is a list of the appointments of Hon. Allen G. Thurman: He will attend the centennial at Cincinnati Thursday, Democratic day. From there he will go to Lima and speak on the 26th, and if he can make railroad connections, will be in Rochester, N. Y., the 28th. He will go to Wheeling, W. Va., the 30th, and may make a date for some point in Ohio for the 29th, probably at Newark, which will be on his way to Wheeling. He will close the campaign at Nelsonville, O., November 3.

Will Take No Part in the Canvass.

NEW YORK, Oct. 24.—Acting Secretary Rives, of the treasury department, approves Consul General Waller's determination not to take any active part in the presidential campaign, and in a letter to Mr. Waller says that it is the opinion of the department that it is not proper for consular officers while on leave of absence in the United States to take any active part in a political canvass.

Ben. Butler's Name Dropped.

BOSTON, Oct. 24.—One of the oddities of the local campaign is the dropping of Gen. Benjamin F. Butler's name from the voting lists at Lowell. One of the registrars said that in spite of his having been presidential candidate in 1884 he had not yet paid his taxes for 1887. It is quite possible that the famous gentleman will not be allowed to vote this year.

Withdrawn in Favor of Prohibition.

LESTERING, Mich., Oct. 24.—Cyprian Miller, Democrat and Labor candidate for member of the assembly in the second district of Marquette county, and H. H. Willdon, the Republican candidate, have withdrawn leaving the field to the Prohibition candidate.

Sold Out and Skipped.

FERGUS FALLS, Minn., Oct. 24.—Ole C. Lonsdalen, one of the best known farmers in this vicinity, and one whose credit has hitherto been perfectly good, has left the country. His liabilities are estimated at $50,000, and among the creditors are three of the city banks and a number of local money lenders. Lonsdalen was thought to be worth at least $100,000. It is learned that he disposed of all his grain and live stock at a sacrifice prior to his departure.

Strike in the Boat Yards.

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 24.—Every boat yard in the first pool on the Monongahela river is idle, on account of the strike of the caulkers and sidlers who demand $3 and $2.75 per day respectively. The employers are willing to pay $2.75 for caulkers and $2.50 for sidlers, and the men refuse to work until their demands are granted. The strike may become general along the river.

Iowa's Prohibition Law Sustained.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 24.—The supreme court has sustained the constitutionality of the prohibition law of Iowa. The point at issue was the right to manufacture intoxicating liquors solely for exportation to other states, despite the state law, and it was pleaded that the prohibitory feature, in so far as the manufacture for exportation is concerned, was in conflict with the constitutional provisions giving congress the sole right to regulate interstate commerce. The case is that of J. S. Kidd, distiller, plaintiff in error, versus I. E. Pierson and S. J. Loughras.

The court holds that the state law prohibiting both the manufacture and the sale, except for mechanical, medicinal, culinary and sacramental purposes, is not in conflict with the interstate commerce provisions, and the decision of the Iowa court is sustained. Opinion by Justice Lamar.

The supreme court in a decision rendered this afternoon affirms the right of a state to prescribe tests for color blindness among employees of railroads.

Confession at the Capital.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 24.—Two negroes were discovered by policemen about 3 o'clock in the morning, carrying a heavy bag between them. As soon as the negroes saw the officers they dropped their burden and fled. When the officers opened the bag it was found to contain the body of Charles L. Meten, a well known colored barber, who died recently, and was buried on Wednesday last in Columbian Harmony cemetery.

NEW YORK, Oct. 24.—Forger James E. Bedell, the dishonest real estate manager of the law firm of Barlow, Shipman, Larocque & Choate who swindled them out of $244,000 pleaded guilty to the fourteen indictments of forgery against him and was recommended for sentence.

My Poor Back!

That "poor back" is held responsible for more than its share of the sufferings of mankind. If your dog bites a man who kicks it, do you blame the dog? On the same principle the kidneys utter their protest against nervousness, impure blood, and resulting constipation. These force them to do extraordinary work in ridding the system of the poisons which are the blood. Then the sufferer says the blood. "Not yet," but they will be removed. These are the causes of kidney troubles, and Paine's Celery Compound removes them quickly. With its tonic, purifying, and laxative effect, it also strengthens the weak kidneys, making it almost infallible in curing all diseases of the nerves and kidneys. If your hopes of cure have not been realized, try Paine's Celery Compound; it gives perfect health to all who complain of "their poor backs." Price $1.00. SOLD BY DRUGGISTS.
